

FALLING UP

As the rain falls through the open sky
Drenching the earth below and the clothes of you and I
Dancing in the sand by the thundering sea
Bursting with life you throw you arms around me

And you whispered in my ear
You have nothing to fear

The river flows into our brilliant sea
Where will our lives take us time will show
Is it fate or is it destiny
I guess these things in life you never know

But I do know what it real
It's the way you make me feel

Like falling up.....

The winds of change blow fiercely through our lives
This raging storm has put fear into your eyes
Just take my hand and trust in me
Together we will soar across the skies

Everything's become so clear
Love is letting go of fear

Like falling up.....
